

DESIGN ACCEPTED
UNION DEPOT

Hermitage Site Location for Million Dollar Station and Office Building.

EVERY MODERN CONVENIENCE

R., F. & P. and A. C. L. Will Occupy New Structure Jointly.
Begin Construction Soon.

Designs have been approved, and as soon as plans can be drawn, bids will be called for the construction of a $1,000,000 union passenger station, to be built jointly by the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac and Atlantic Coast Line Railroads, on the Hermitage Club site, on West Broad Street. It is expected that actual construction will begin before spring. When completed, it will be one of the handsomest structures in the city, and will be used not only as a station, but as the offices of the two lines.

The main building will set back 120 feet from the property line, and will face Broad Street. A park will run the full length of the block, and between it and the building proper will be a private driveway. The main structure will be 244 feet in length and 168 feet in depth. The concourse in its rear will be 230 feet long and sixty-five feet wide. It will be open at each end, and will have exits on both sides of the main building. There will be seven tracks, with twenty-foot platforms. The baggage, mail and express rooms will be in a special building 50x200 feet.

Three Floors for Offices.
With the basement, the station will have five floors, the three upper ones being for the general offices. The main or street floor, will be for the public. The general waiting-room opens directly on the driveway. In dimensions it will be 57x105 feet. The women's waiting-room is twenty-eight by thirty-one feet, in addition to the retiring rooms. On the opposite side of the building will be the men's waiting room, which is identical in size. The main restaurant, which is fifty-three by forty-five feet, and has a seating capacity of more than 100, will be in the northeast corner of the main building. The kitchen will be in its rear, and a lunch counter will be operated in connection with it.

The colored waiting-room is in the northwest corner of the station floor, and will be forty-six by fifty-one feet. These quarters, while not as large as the white department, will be as complete.

All Conveniences at Hand.
Ticket offices will open in both the general and the colored waiting rooms. Parcel and baggage rooms, telephone and telegraph offices, and baggage counters are all located conveniently and front on the main waiting-room. Two passenger elevators, reached from the main floor, will run to the upper stories, which will be used as offices.

The structure is designed by John Russell Pope, of New York, and will contain an expenditure of approximately $1,000,000 more, making the approximate cost of the plant about $1,000,000. The Grecian style of architecture is to be followed. This lends itself to maximum of dignity and permanency, yet gives an economical, direct and simple structure. The plan gives the waiting-room a simple, well-proportioned, well-lighted and well-ventilated room, free from columns, floor obstructions, balcony or complicated wall arrangements. The room will be treated in plaster stone with a marble wainscot and floor.

At either end of the waiting-room, but separated, are the special rooms for men and women, while the remaining floor requirements are conveniently disposed of, each being well lighted and ventilated, and allowing a clean, simple and symmetrical finish. Externally, a colonnade entrance mois a predigested liquid food in the form of a medicinal whiskey, and its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. It is invaluable for the prevention and alleviation of distressing summer complaints. Look for the "Old Chemist's Head" and be sure you get the genuine. Get a bottle to-day and you'll begin to notice an improvement to-morrow. Sold by most druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a bottle. Medical booklet and doctor's advice free on request. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

tive has been adopted for reason of its monumental qualities, which are desirable in a structure of this design. By this style, ornamentation elsewhere on the building is made unnecessary, and the simplest materials and finish can be utilized with the best possible effect. The cost of the columns alone will be $12,300.

The external materials will be limestone, iron and glass. The rear will be constructed of buff brick. The entire main building contains 1,536,000 cubic feet. No designs for the extra buildings, concourse or train sheds have been submitted.

It is planned by the companies to begin the construction as soon as possible. The Hermitage grounds are owned by the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, and the club has been under moving orders for some time, but have been permitted to use the property until needed. The ball park has been leased until after the close of the football season. Everything for the comfort of the traveling public has been provided in the plans for the new building. There will be no crowded conditions to contend with, as there are plenty of exits and entrances, while the concourse is almost as large as that in Broad Street Station, Philadelphia. There will be no steps to climb, and the two tracks will be kept apart, as the accommodations for both are ample, and are in proportion to the number that now travel over the two lines. The station will be known officially as the West End Depot.

Caught in Loom.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Winchester, Va., August 30.—Samuel Renner is in a precarious condition at Memorial Hospital as a result of his face and head being terribly lacerated to-day while repairing a loom in the Virginia Woolen Company's mill. An operative set the machinery in motion while Renner was under the loom, his nose was fractured, lips torn, teeth knocked down his throat and his head is a mass of gashes and bruises.

Appointed Consul.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Fredericksburg, Va., August 30.—Alexander Berger, son of Alexander Berger of Hayfield, on the Rappahannock River, ten miles below this city, has been appointed by President Wilson as vice and deputy consul to Mannheim, Germany. Mr. Berger is a young man of high attainments and graduated last June from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. The appointment is gratifying to his many friends in this city. Mr. Berger will sail early in September to assume his duties.

BUCHANAN NAMED
FOR THE SENATEDemocrats of First Senatorial
District in Convention Favor
Enabling Act.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bristol, Tenn., August 30.—The Democrats of the First Virginia Senatorial District, composed of Washington and Smyth Counties and Bristol City, in convention in the City Hall here to-day, nominated Hon. B. F. Buchanan, of Marion, for the Senate, to succeed the late Senator David C. Cummings, and adopted resolutions favoring the state prohibition enabling act. The nomination was made by acclamation, there being no other candidate. A resolution favoring local option as to the whiskey traffic was offered in committee, but was voted down and the enabling resolution substituted.

The convention was largely attended. Captain James L. White, of Abingdon, was temporary chairman, and Henry G. Lavender, of Bristol, permanent chairman. W. J. Snodgrass, of Washington, acted as secretary. The convention was held in the City Hall, which was crowded. The delegates were from all parts of the district. The convention was held in the City Hall, which was crowded. The delegates were from all parts of the district. The convention was held in the City Hall, which was crowded. The delegates were from all parts of the district.

Buchanan Nominated.
The name of Hon. B. F. Buchanan was presented to the convention in a brief but eloquent speech by Judge G. W. Richardson, of Marion. Judge Richardson lauded Mr. Buchanan as a man who is thorough in his convictions and in his administration of President Wilson, favored the adoption of a new and less expensive method of State primaries, and advocated a liberal policy with reference to public lands. He also lauded Mr. Buchanan as a man who is thorough in his convictions and in his administration of President Wilson, favored the adoption of a new and less expensive method of State primaries, and advocated a liberal policy with reference to public lands.

The second speech was made by Hon. Preston W. Campbell, of Abingdon, who referred to the late Senator Buchanan in a eulogistic manner, and who said that it was one of Senator Cummings' last requests that Mr. Buchanan be nominated to succeed him in the Senate. Mr. Buchanan was presented to the convention by a committee composed of Preston W. Campbell, Judge G. W. Richardson and E. S. Kendrick. He received an ovation. His brief acceptance speech was full of assurances and his desire to do the greatest possible service to the people of his district and to the State. He lauded the present Democratic administration in the nation as being wise, patriotic and sectional in its character. The name of Hon. B. F. Buchanan was mentioned by Judge Richardson and other speakers, was lustily cheered.

Makes Record Run.
Bath, Me., August 30.—A record of being the fastest torpedo boat afloat of the 1,000-ton class was brought to her builders here to-day by the Cummings, when she completed the last test in her speed trials. The final run was of twenty hours at a speed of fifteen and one-half knots, which was reported as entirely satisfactory.

PARIS OF OLDEN DAYS'S LOST IN
NEW BUILDINGSArchitectural Modernism Destroying Picturesqueness of Famous Quarters.

BY CHARLES HENRY MELTZER.
(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)
Paris, August 30.—Until this week we have had no hot weather, but, thanks to the rain, which, for so long dampened Paris, the Bois, the parks and some of the chief boulevards, show the greensward of the springtime. Rarely has the city looked more charming.

The trend of table talk is still directed toward the quarrel between M. Bleriot and other distinguished aviators and the managers of the French Aero Club, and the signs of activity at the Opera Comique, the Folies Bergere, the Theatre Francaise and the ultra modern Champs Elysees, where rehearsals open on Monday for the coming season.

The riots which, within the past few weeks have attended Saturday torchlight processions of various regiments, have been the chief cause of the government. The hydra-headed snake of anarchy, it seems, is scotched and not killed. None knows what might occur if a great crisis arose in Paris; even M. Clemenceau, who has been so long in power, is not sure that he could throw his influence into the scale on behalf of the new three years' service bill, is again agitating against the ministry, which, according to the disorganizing element, is a sign of militarism. He is clamoring for the overthrow of Premier Barthou.

Passing of Old Paris.

Street after street of old picturesque Paris is being destroyed. The Marais, of which Alphonse Daudet wrote, is gradually vanishing, and buildings of the pretentious, modern kind, with projecting windows and huge doors of new style, are replacing even the houses of the Haussmann period.

The venerable Boulevard St. Martin shortly will be remodeled, and the Boulevard des Capucines already has been half-covered with smug bourgeois structures.

The spirit of architectural modernism is fast invading the French provinces, and is replacing ancient landmarks and changing the aspect of long-honored monuments.

At Algues Mortes, the strange town in Southern France from which Saint Louis sailed for the last crusade, the time-stained fortress is to be destroyed by an architectural exorcism in the shape of a co-operative wine store. And this is only one of many instances of needless vandalism.

Bernhardt Ends Holiday.

Sarah Bernhardt has ended her summer holiday, as usually a rather busy one, and is back in Paris at her theatre, which, while not accepting of Rostand's "L'Aiglon," warned by her example, those of our own actors who had lingered here are fighting for passages on many steamship lines and are seeking home to work. William H. Crane, Anglo-Held and Lillian Russell are still skimming about Europe, but very soon they, too, will sail.

The new work by the Italian dramatist, Gabriele d'Annunzio, at first named "Ferro" and now rechristened "The Ruined House," will be produced next season at the Ambigu.

STABBED TO DEATH

William J. Fisher Locked Up on Charge of Killing W. L. Aldorfer.
Washington, August 30.—William L. Aldorfer, a well-known writer, who was stabbed to death last night in his home in Chevy Chase, Md., a suburb of Washington, is being held in custody by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and taken to the county jail at Rockville. The tragedy, according to the police, occurred at about 10 o'clock, when Aldorfer sought to chastise his seventeen-year-old adopted daughter.

Academy of the Visitation Monte Maria

Founded 1860.
Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies. Beautifully situated, overlooking the Potomac River, the Academy of the Visitation comprises all the requisites of a refined and polished education. Special attention given to music and languages, French in particular. Private courses given in latter branch, by a native, during school year.
The convent of Visitation was founded in Richmond, September 2, 1860, by a band of Sisters from Baltimore, who, during the war, were in the city of Petersburg in 1864-65, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and to-day visited the scenes of their activities around Petersburg. They are Charles G. Pratt, T. A. Plimpton and J. Murray. Before coming to Petersburg they visited the battlefields of Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania, Chancellorsville and the Wilderness, where the Confederates were actively engaged. The visitors were called on by many Confederate veterans here, and every attention and courtesy were shown them, and their visit was a pleasant one. There is a warm feeling of friendship between the veterans of Massachusetts and the veterans of Petersburg, and in the last several years there have been interchanges of visits.

Successful Meeting.
The four days' protracted meeting at George Academy is a success. The Rev. Mr. Daniel, pastor of Oakland and Shiloh Churches conducted the services, preaching to large audiences each day. There were many conversions and twenty additions to the church. An abundance of good eating was spread each day.

News of Petersburg

The Times-Dispatch Bureau,
5 Bollingbrook Street,
Petersburg, Va., August 30.
(Phone 1485.)

It is understood that the Virginia Railway and Power Company has submitted another proposition to supply the city with water from the river, which is now under consideration by the special Council Committee on Water Supply, of which W. R. McKenney is chairman. It is said that the new proposition is more acceptable than the one first made, and with active cooperation by the committee. The same price is retained for a series of seven years, but at the end of that time the question of a new contract and the price of water is to be submitted to a commission of three hydraulic engineers. The proposition fixes the present price of water at about $5 per 1,000,000 gallons, and the city uses about 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 gallons daily.

The river water has been very muddy for some days, in consequence of the recent rains, and the consumers in the western part of the city, where the water is not filtered, are making serious complaint, and the health officer has recommended that it be boiled before being used for drinking purposes. The great body of the water, which is raw, however, are furnished with the water filtered and purified. In the meantime, the city is making every effort to improve its water supply.

Visit of Veterans.
Three Union veterans of Boston, members of the Eleventh Massachusetts Light Artillery, which saw hard service in Virginia during the war and from the city of Petersburg in 1864-65, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and to-day visited the scenes of their activities around Petersburg. They are Charles G. Pratt, T. A. Plimpton and J. Murray. Before coming to Petersburg they visited the battlefields of Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania, Chancellorsville and the Wilderness, where the Confederates were actively engaged. The visitors were called on by many Confederate veterans here, and every attention and courtesy were shown them, and their visit was a pleasant one. There is a warm feeling of friendship between the veterans of Massachusetts and the veterans of Petersburg, and in the last several years there have been interchanges of visits.

There were many conversions and twenty additions to the church. An abundance of good eating was spread each day.

Rally of Baraca Unions.
A rally of the Baraca-Philathea unions in this city will be held in the

First Baptist Church next Tuesday night, to be addressed by the Rev. Frank Anderson, field secretary of the National Union. An attractive program has been prepared for the occasion, and a big rally of the members of the local unions is looked for.

To Observe Labor Day.
The merchants of this city have generally signed an agreement to close their places of business on Monday in observance of Labor Day. A great crowd will attend the Petersburg-Richmond ball game here in the morning and in Richmond in the afternoon. Public business will be suspended. A large party of colored people will go on an excursion to Jamestown, where they will celebrate the landing of the first cargo of negroes in 1619.

General News Notes.
Beginning to-morrow night, a series of evangelistic meetings will be held at the Halifax Street Baptist Chapel. The preaching will be by the Rev. W. T. Hall, an evangelist, and T. A. Duke, both of this city, were married in Richmond this morning.

Councilman Walter N. Jones will leave for New York to-morrow. Mrs. J. W. Bradbury and family, who have been spending the summer in Albemarle County, are now visiting in Danville.

The independent political movement headed by W. L. Peables, as the candidate for the Legislature, will not, it is believed, prove of much consequence or receive many supporters. The Democrats have no fear that it will endanger the election of Judge John Y. Harris, their nominee for the House of Delegates.

At the meeting of the Petersburg Grays last night, First Sergeant C. C. Crowder was elected second lieutenant to fill a vacancy caused by promotion. The planters in this section are cutting their early tobacco, and the market will be opened for the sale of primings next week.

Treasure Found After 2,000 Years.
Ancient Sculpture of Great Value Recovered From Wreck Off Tunisian Coast.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) London, August 30.—Sunken art treasures of fabulous value have just been recovered from the wreck of a ship off Madia, on the Tunisian coast. A Tunisian squadron sent to investigate the report of Greek sponge divers found a sunken vessel of about 400 tons, 100 feet long and twenty-five feet broad. She was laden with an extraordinary cargo, consisting of blocks of marble, bases and capitals for columns, effigies, statues, furniture, tiles, leaden piping, lamps, amphorae, etc.

Among the fragments were found figures of a demigod and a maiden and faun, which correspond almost exactly with the Borghese vase dug up in Rome and now in the Louvre. A Hermes of Dionysos bears the signature "Borothos," the sculptor of the celebrated "Child with a Goose" of the second century B. C.

In the bottom of the hold the treasure chest was found about six columns of bluish-white marble thirteen feet high. All the inscription deciphered relate to Attica and personages of the middle four century B. C.

Some writing on lead ingots also is in the Latin of that epoch, and experts have concluded that the vessel was loaded in Attica for home and probably the cargo was the spoil after the taking of Athens by Sulla in 88 B. C.
